This includes securing the accident scene, arranging for proper storage of goods if necessary, and ensuring that no unauthorized access is allowed.
- v. The Transporter/Service Provider must also ensure that the shipment is transferred as soon as possible to the consignee's location through alternate transport, minimizing any delays in the delivery of goods. In the event that the accident leads to damage to the goods, the Transporter/Service Provider is required to arrange for the damaged goods to be delivered to the consignee for further inspection.

14.2. Penalties and Liabilities in Case of Road Accident:

- i. In case of an accident during the transport of the goods, CMSS reserves the right to penalize the Transporter/Service Provider for non-compliance with the terms of this agreement. The penalties may include, but are not limited to, deductions from the Transporter/Service Provider's existing or future payments, or the application of other security measures held by CMSS, to recover costs related to:
 - The repair or replacement of damaged goods
 - The cost of delay or disruption in delivery
 - Any additional administrative costs incurred due to the accident.
- ii. If the accident is due to the Transporter/Service Provider's negligence or failure to adhere to the required safety standards, CMSS may take further actions, including blacklisting the Transporter/Service Provider for future assignments.

14.3. Force Majeure (Act of God):

- i. If the accident occurs due to an event classified under Force Majeure, such as natural disasters (e.g., floods, earthquakes) or other unforeseeable circumstances, the Transporter/Service Provider must provide proof that such events led to the incident. CMSS will consider delays on

- a case-by-case basis, with a proper evaluation of the situation.
- ii. However, any recurring breakdowns or accidents caused by the Transporter/Service Provider's neglect or improper vehicle maintenance will not be considered as Force Majeure, and CMSS will reserve the right to impose penalties or deductions as outlined in this clause.

14.4. Procedural Steps for Handling Road Accidents:

- i. Immediate Communication: The Transporter/Service Provider must notify CMSS immediately upon the occurrence of the accident. This communication should include all essential details such as the location, time, nature of the accident, and potential damage to the goods. The Transporter/Service Provider must send a copy of the FIR, Panchnama, and any preliminary findings from the surveyor through email, fax, or another prompt communication method.
- ii. Site Security: The Transporter/Service Provider is required to take immediate action to secure the accident site. This includes preventing any unauthorized access to the site to avoid further loss, theft, or damage to the goods. If necessary, the Transporter/Service Provider must engage local authorities or security services to maintain the safety of the goods and prevent pilferage.
- iii. Transfer of Goods: The Transporter/Service Provider should ensure that the damaged goods, if any, are transported to the consignee's location without further delay. If the vehicle involved in the accident is not capable of transporting the goods, the Transporter/Service Provider must arrange for alternative transportation and ensure the least disruption to the delivery schedule.
- iv. Handling Damaged Goods: Any goods that are damaged in the accident should be handed over to the consignee in a proper and documented manner. A detailed inspection report of the damaged goods should be created, and the goods should be placed under the consignee's custody for further surveying. CMSS will have the right to assess the condition of the goods and determine whether replacement, repair, or compensation is required.
- v. Documentary Evidence: The Transporter/Service Provider must ensure that the Panchnama and FIR are legally and accurately completed and submitted to CMSS. The Transporter/Service Provider must also provide any additional supporting documents such as the surveyor's report, photographs of the damage, and any relevant receipts or invoices for repairs. These documents will serve as the basis for evaluating liability, damages, and the implementation of penalties or claims.

14.5. Liability and Rights of CMSS:

- i. While the submission of the required documentary evidence (such as the FIR, Panchnama, and surveyor's report) will be considered as part of the accident investigation process, these documents do not absolve the Transporter/Service Provider from liability regarding the loss, damage, or delay of goods during transit. CMSS will assess each case based on the merits and take appropriate action in line with the contract.
- ii. CMSS reserves the right to apply penalties, make deductions from payments, or use other forms of security to recover any losses incurred due to the accident, including loss of goods or delay in delivery.
- iii. Additionally, CMSS has the discretion to handle each incident based on its individual circumstances, including assessing the extent of negligence, failure to comply with safety protocols, or any other relevant factors.
